

Liam, 10, was diagnosed with Neuroblastoma when only two months old. The cancer was already at Stage 4 when discovered. Treatment began at four months of age.

Remarkably Liam reached all the major milestones within his first year of life, despite the chemotherapy treatments, which lasted until he was two years old.

The medical problems did not stop there. When Liam was only five, he fell while riding a bicycle. Although wearing a helmet, he suffered a concussion. This injury led to epilepsy which he is medicated for twice daily. He had had grand mal seizures in the past.

Yet despite this long medical road, he is a very active and athletic boy. His favourite sports are baseball and hockey which he successfully plays at a Rep level.

His wish is to go and see the Harry Potter exhibit at Universal Studios in California and is excited to visit the waterpark on site.

Liam and his family are very grateful to Jammer Classic for helping grant his most heartfelt wish.
